

This addendum is effective August 26, 2025

New Courses

EDSL 971: Internship in Educational Leadership I

Limited to students enrolled in Furman's school leadership concentration who have prior approval. Supervised application of principles of school administration in the areas of curriculum instruction and assessment; staff personnel; student personnel; finance operations and business; and school-community relations. Performance activities are designed to develop management and leadership skills. 3 credits

EDSL 972: Internship in Educational Leadership II

Limited to students enrolled in Furman's school leadership concentration who have prior approval. Supervised application of principles of school administration in the areas of curriculum instruction and assessment; staff personnel; student personnel; finance operations and business; and school-community relations. Performance activities are designed to develop management and leadership skills. 3 credits

SDG 706: Sports Management and Marketing

Explore marketing strategies for sports events, products, and services. Topics addressed include sponsorships, endorsements, media, and community impact. Learn to design, lead, and evaluate strategic marketing initiatives in the dynamic world of sports marketing. 3 credits

Course Changes

INV 641: Professional Coaching

Students work with an assigned coach to co-create a leadership development plan that emphasizes goal setting, personal strengths development, and action planning. Group class meetings provide opportunities for students to reflect on their coaching experience, learn coaching fundamentals, and cultivate a coaching mindset and relevant skills. 3 credits